ROBIE HOUSE

Recognized as a cornerstone of American architecture, the Frederick C. Robie House, built in 1906 in Chicago, Illinois, is one of Frank Lloyd Wright's most famous works where he boldly established the Prairie style that blended the boundaries between interior and exterior spaces. His distinctive art glass windows featured throughout in geometric diamond and chevron abstractions of American prairie flora are the inspiration behind the design of our exclusive timepiece. Made with a rectangular case to reflect the strong horizontal lines of the Robie House, it features a silver-tone stainless steel case with applied indexes and a four-layer constructed dial that is finished with a curved, metalized mineral crystal that showcases the blue, gray, and green colored dial, a 3-hand movement with a signature second hand, and a caseback that includes the date the Robie House project was completed. This collector's watch also features a gray textured leather strap with the window design embossed on the inner strap, a deployant buckle closure with Frank Lloyd Wright's signature, and water resistance to 30 meters.

Height: 37mm / Width: 30.5mm / Depth: 9mm

96B367 OCULUS

This timepiece incorporates one of Frank Lloyd Wright's more famous projects, the Coonley Playhouse based outside of Chicago. It is the stain glass windows which have been a popular design that has been revered and copied into many items. The circles and squares go back to his use of geometric shapes that have been integral in his designs. Designed in 1912, The Avery Coonley Playhouse was originally a private schoolhouse on the estate of industrialist Avery Coonley. Yet, just a few years after its completion, the Coonley's had it converted into a single-family residence, as it remains today. The timepiece's stainless steel case includes a blue enamel dial that is reminiscent of an Architects blueprint drawing and features a 5-hand chronograph with two sub dials that track the Chronographs function while in use. The case is made of Stainless Steel for durability and has a domed mineral crystal. The natural calf-skin strap is finished in brown and accented with white stitching.

Diameter: 39mm / Depth: 12.2mm

96A248 THE OCULUS AUTOMATIC

Form and Function exist as one which is part of Mr. Wright's philosophy. This watch, an abstract depiction of Frank Lloyd Wright's 'December Gifts' has a neutral gray patterned dial. Featured is a stainless steel case and black leather strap with a three-piece buckle closure. Beauty and utility are what composes an automatic watch. The heartbeat open aperture and glass exhibition case back, offer a look into the automatic movement. Watch features a domed mineral crystal and water resistance to 30 meters.

96L286 PATTERN #106

The dial design, #106, relates to a fabric pattern developed by Frank Lloyd Wright in a series of colors. This watch has an elongated stainless steel tank shaped curved case. The bracelet, features a complimentary and flexible pattern for elegant wear. The light gray dial features raised hour markers which add dimension to the dial. Watch features a curved mineral crystal, locking bracelet closure and water resistance to 30 meters.

HOLLYHOCK HOUSE

Capturing the bold sophistication and modernism of the Hollyhock House, Frank Lloyd Wright mastered the use of indoor and outdoor spaces in this architectural treasure that featured his iconic stained glass window designs composed in a geometric format of the Hollyhock flower. Built between 1919-1922 in Los Angeles, California, the Hollyhock House is the inspiration behind the design of our exclusive timepiece. With a gold-tone stainless steel case, the watch features a four-layer constructed dial finished with a domed mineral crystal that gives depth to the design, revealing the gray of a cloudy sky beyond the window. The case is designed with applied indexes on the dial ring and features a 3-hand movement with a signature second hand, and the caseback includes the date the Hollyhock House project was completed. This collector's timepiece also features a brown textured leather strap with the inner strap embossed with the window design, a 3-piece buckle closure, and water resistance to 30 meters.

DANA-THOMAS HOUSE

Marking the 120th anniversary of the extraordinary Dana-Thomas House, this early Prairie-style home, built between 1902-1904, is the quintessential model of Frank Lloyd Wright's sophisticated form of architecture that responds to the surrounding environment. Exemplifying the home's grandeur, the stained-glass window designs reflect items from nature, such as the sumac and other foliage. These luxuriously designed windows inspired the design of our exclusive timepiece. The elegant rectangular case, in gold-tone ion-plated stainless steel, expresses the strong lines of this vast home. The rich theme continues in the three-layer constructed dial featuring a vertical brushing that showcases the metallic gold-tone Dana-Thomas sumac pattern. The dial is finished with a curved, metalized crystal and has a 3-hand movement with a signature second hand, and the caseback includes the date the Dana-Thomas House project was completed. This collector's watch also features a luxurious, black calfskin leather strap with the window design embossed on the nubuck inner strap, a deployant buckle closure with Frank Lloyd Wright's signature, and water resistance to 30 meters.

DECEMBER GIFTS

In 1927, Wright designed a series of twelve monthly covers based on seasonal themes for Liberty magazine. When submitted, they were judged to be too avant-garde for the time but would become the basis for later interpretations executed in diverse media. Each design is an example of Wright's practice using the tools of his trade. This design is a detail from the drawing, December Gifts, depicting festive holiday gifts with ribbon and bows abstracted to striking geometric shapes. Water resistant to 30 meters.

LUXFER PRISM

Frank Lloyd Wright designed and patented a series of 45 prisms of clear glass tiles to refract light for the Luxfer Prism Company Building in Buffalo, New York, 1896-97. The front and rear walls of the building were made entirely of these Luxfer Prisms. This clock incorporates two of the famous prism designs, including the flower design that was the only one ever actually produced. Case is made of individual bronze-finish rods. The dial has raised hour markers on cream color with a shadow background design. Quiet sweep (no ticking) seconds hand. Requires (1) AA battery, not included.
